SENATE ELIMINATES PROFITS TAXES

SENATE COMMITTEE OFFERS SUBSTITUTE FOR OPPOSED PLAN

UNDISTRIBUTED PROFITS TAX WOULD GIVE WAY TO 18 PERCENT RATE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—(AP)—The senate finance committee eliminated the undistributed profits tax today from the house-approved tax revision bill and substituted a flat rate of 18 percent on corporate incomes.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the committee said treasury estimates showed the change would provide almost $100,000,000 more revenue than the house bill.

A committee vote to strike out the controversial undistributed profits levy was 17 to 4, with Senators Barkley (D-Ky), Connally (D-Tex), Buckley (D-Ohio) and La Follette (D-Wis.) voting in opposition.

Harrison and all the remainder of the committee lined up in favor of repeal.

Under the senate-approved plan, the house provision for a four percent undistributed profits levy on corporations with annual net incomes of more than $25,000 would be eliminated and a flat 18 percent rate on corporation income substituted.

The house provided a sliding scale of rates from 18 to 20 percent, the applicable rate depending upon the amount of corporation income distributed to stock holders.

Four Per Cent Margin.

There thus was a four per cent margin which would tend to force distribution of corporate income.

Harrison and other senate committee members have contended that a flat corporation rate would stimulate business by providing tax certainty.

As in the house measure, the proposal approved by the senate committee provides a special treatment for corporations with a net income of less than $25,000.

Earlier, the senate finance committee decided today against including processing taxes in the pending tax revision bill.

Members said the decision was reached in an effort to speed action of the $530,000,000 revenue measure.

Senator Pope (D-Idaho) an author of the recently enacted farm program, had suggested "tariff equalizing" levies on the processing of various commodities to raise $212,000,000 of revenue for additional farm benefits.

JAPANESE BELIEVE NAVAL EXPANSION AIMED AT THEM

JAP NAVY SPOKESMAN SAYS PROGRAM INDICATES PLANS AGAINST NIPPON

TOKYO, March 24.—(AP)—A Japanese navy spokesman said today he believed the U. S. Navy's $1,121,000,000 expansion bill shows the United States is considering naval operations against Japan.

The spokesman, speaking at a press conference, said "My own view is that if Americans are not thinking of overseas operations they would not need a fleet of that size. Nor do I believe the object of American operations could be any other than Japan."

Self defense still is the basic principle underlying Japan's plans he added, but he noted "with interest" Admiral William D. Leahy's explanation for the necessity of the construction measure.

Admiral Leahy, chief of naval operations, told the house naval committee February 4 that the navy at present was incapable of defending both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts at the same time.

Subsequently he asserted the United States has no alliances, foreign commitments or understandings regarding assistance to be given or received in defending the United States or defending any other nation.

Credence was placed in American denials that actual co-operation exists between the United States and Great Britain, but the spokesman added:

"Personally, I think they have something like a common understanding which does not go to the extent of co-operation."

Reports that 1938 U. S. navy war games would extend to near the borders of Japanese mandated islands in the Pacific, drew from the naval representative the remark:

"It is unbelievable the Americans would come so near."

TENTATIVE SENATE APPROVAL ABOLISH OFFICE COMPTROLLER

SENATOR BYRD LOSES POSITION RETAIN THIS OFFICE INTACT

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—The senate tentatively approved today abolition of the office of comptroller general. It rejected 47 to 36 a proposal by Senator Byrd (D-Va.) to preserve the office intact.

Byrd had sought to knock out of the administration's pending reorganization bill a provision to eliminate the comptroller and divide his duties between the director of the budget and a new officer, the auditor general.

Senator Schwelienbach (D-Wn.) charged the comptroller general exercises "the most dictatorial powers ever given a federal official."

Schwelienbach charged the comptroller general had failed to file required yearly reports with congress on alleged illegal expenditures. He said the office report in 12 years had been filed March 4, after consideration of the reorganization bill was begun.

The senate's procedure with reorganization apparently tied up for the time being, all efforts to immediately authorize an investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

On the house side a similar delay was in prospect. Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) announced the rules committee would begin open hearings Monday on various pending investigation proposals.

The house itself took up the $447,808,555 war department appropriation bill, hearing it described by Chairman Snyder (D-Iowa) as a "bill prepared to be passed in the light of present world conditions."

The house-approved tax bill lost its undistributed profits tax provision entirely at the hands of the senate finance committee which substituted instead a flat 18 percent corporation income tax.

J. N. EDENS NAMED PRESIDENT NAVARRO FAIR ORGANIZATION

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS DISCUSSED; WILL SELECT SITE SOON

Organization of the board of directors of the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show was completed at a meeting held at the Navarro hotel Wednesday night, and plans inaugurated to get actual construction of the permanent fair plant under way at the earliest possible date.

Seven of the nine directors were present and J. M. Dyer, president of the chamber of commerce, acted as temporary chairman and presented the latest figures on the financial campaign.

Officers were then elected as follows: president, J. N. Edens; first vice-president, Fred M. Allison; second vice-president, W. C. Stroube; secretary-treasurer, J. M. Dyer. It was decided the entire board of directors would comprise the executive committee.

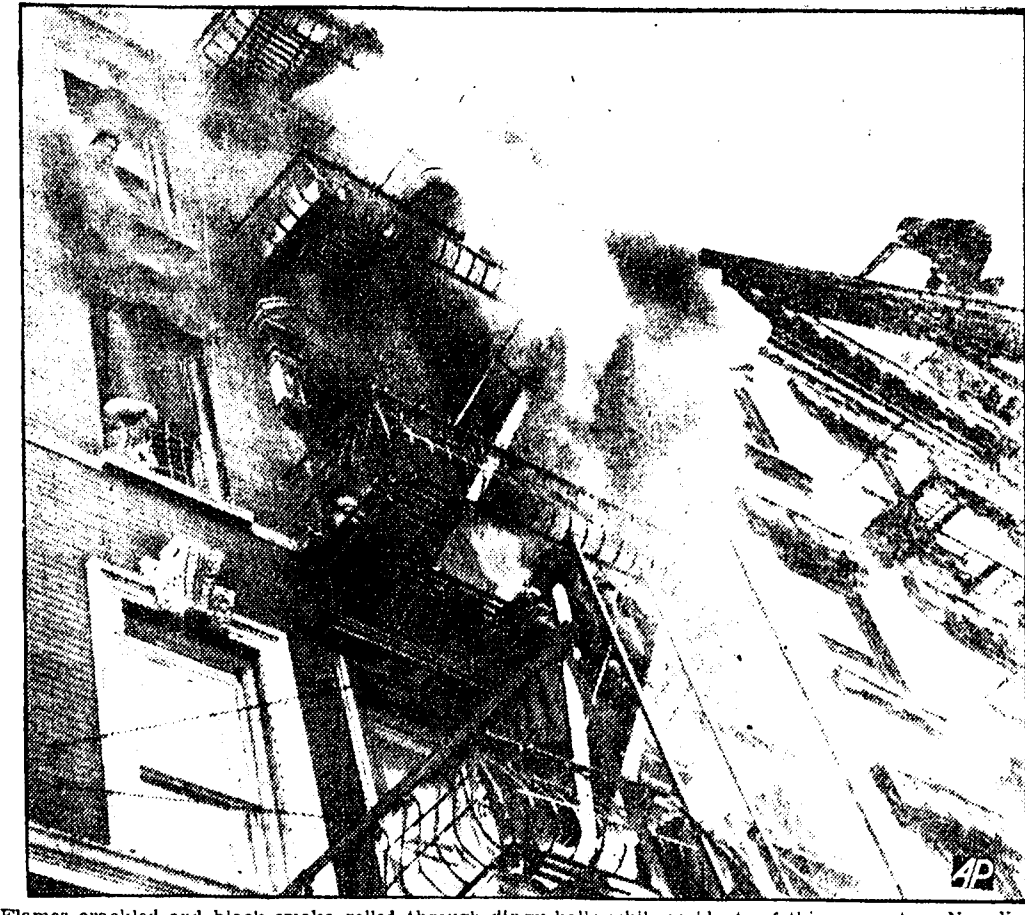

After the formal organization, President Edens called upon the chamber of commerce, sponsors of the permanent fair project, to complete their financial campaign and collect the $20,000 minimum in cash at the earliest possible date in order that a site could be purchased and actual construction started.

A preliminary draft of a proposed constitution and by-laws for the corporation was presented by Richard W. Knight and was thoroughly discussed and numerous amendments suggested. The final version was left to the preparation of the president and his attorneys subject to the ratification of the board prior to formal application for a charter.

Among the provisions of charter was one that the plant should be used for annual fairs and other events of public interest and education. Provision was also made for an assistant secretary-treasurer and a manager, to be named by the board of directors.

It was reported several sites had been included on the list of See COUNTY FAIR, Page 3.

Flames crackled and black smoke rolled through dingy halls while residents of this seven-story New York tenement rushed to windows and cried for help. CHAMBERLAIN SAYS MILITARY HELP NOT PLANNED AT PRESENT

FLAT PLEDGE MADE FIGHT FOR FRANCE OR BELGIUM BY BRITAIN

LONDON, Mar. 24.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today refused to give Czechoslovakia "a prior guarantee" of immediate armed help against German aggression, but he warned Adolf Hitler that a middle European war would drag in other powers.

"Where peace and war are concerned," he told a packed, intent house of commons, "legal obligations are not alone involved, and if war broke out it would be unlikely to be confined to those who have assumed such obligations."

"It would be impossible to say where it would end and what governments might become involved. This is especially true of two countries like Britain and France, devoted to the same ideals of democratic liberty and determined to uphold them."

Chamberlain spoke 57 minutes in pressing his anxiously awaited statement of foreign policy, the most important such declaration by a British prime minister since the world war.

During most of his speech Chamberlain leaned his left elbow on the famous dispatch box used by Disraeli, Gladstone and other prime ministers.

He promised Britain would send the new arm she was forcing into battle to uphold the treaties she already has notably those for aid to France and Belgium, and to protect her vital interests.

He urged solution of the problems between Hitler's expanded Germany and Czechoslovakia. He insisted there still were prospects for success in his bargaining with Italy's Mussolini.

No Winners in War

But he said Britain must strive for peace, "because we know that in war there are no winners."

Voicing the views of the labor party and others in the opposition that Britain should take a firmer line against Hitler's dictators, Clement E. Attlee, opposition leader, followed Chamberlain.

"Chamberlain has yielded to force," he declared. "He has left it and the world in the 1914 situation."

"There is nothing so dangerous as a policy of weakness, drift and uncertainty."

Attlee said he was shocked by Chamberlain's "timidity" in accepting Italy's promises.

He made a flat pledge to fight if France or Belgium were the victims of unjustified attack when he said:

"Our existing commitments See BRITAIN, Page 3.

Eight Killed In Crash Of Plane; Storm Killed 60

PERPIGNAN, France, Mar. 24.—(AP)—Five passengers and the crew were killed last night in the crash of a mail plane en route from Paris to Casablanca. The ship fell in flames near Corbeil and was buried in the snow after striking a high peak of the French Pyrenees.

HERRERA BEEN NAMED GENERAL MANAGER FOR EXPROPRIATED OIL INDUSTRY; PAYMENT IS PROMISED

MEXICO CITY, March 24.—(AP)—Vicente Cortes Herrera, under-secretary for communications, today was appointed general manager of the new National Petroleum Council to administer the $400,000,000 oil industry taken over by the government.

As the nation recovered from a series of gala celebrations in major cities, there were first indications of a national subscription campaign to pay the 17 British and American oil companies for loss of their property.

President Cardenas pledged his government to pay indemnity in a speech yesterday during Mexico City's parade of laborites to signify their support of the expropriation.

"It is opportune to assert in these solemn moments," Cardenas said, "so that all the world may know it, that Mexico will honor her debt with the foreigner."

"We must get ourselves ready to begin immediate indemnification for the expropriated prop-

BRITISH LABOR APPARENTLY WILLING AID CHAMBERLAIN SPEED ARMING

(By The Associated Press)

A new government crisis seemed in the making in France today.

British labor, it appeared, was willing to co-operate with Chamberlain on a non-political basis to place arms and aircraft factories on double shifts, providing the prime minister sponsored foreign policy to labor taste and pledged that union labor would not suffer from the speeding up.

In France, an outbreak of new strikes including several nationalized factories piled worry on top of worry for the popular front government of socialist Leon Blum.

The strikes, in the Paris and Lille regions were largely "symbolic" movements—baiting work for only a few hours in an effort to force new collective contracts.

Blum flared up in the French senate against the popular front government—specifically Premier Blum's national defense financing plans.

It seemed a new crisis would be precipitated if Blum insisted on his plans.

The socialist party newspaper, Le Populaire, charged that Blum's opposition was prepared to "demolish the factory" to force formation of a dictatorial "public safety" cabinet to be accompanied by suspension of political parties and dissolution of parliament.

Inurgent armies took a new tack in their drive against northeastern territory of government Spain, shifting their offensive to the north, aiming at Lerida, "key" to Catalonia and 80 miles west of Barcelona and the coast.

Counter-attacking Chinese kept Japanese from crossing the grand Canal 22 miles north of Suichow and into the central front of China, placed flanking units along a Japanese-Pukow railway for 50 miles.

2 Commissioners To Be Named In April Election

Only one candidate for city commissioner had filed his name with City Secretary J. P. Welch for the regular election to be held on Tuesday, April 5, this official reported Thursday morning. Only two commissioners are to be elected in the city offices having been filled last year.

Commissioner J. Harry Burke, now completing his first term in office, was announced several days ago and has formally filed for re-election. All applications must be filed not later than midnight next Monday, March 28 to comply with election statutes, the city secretary said.

Commissioner Burke and Commissioner John P. Garitty are the two whose terms expire next month. Commissioner Garitty has made no definite announcement but has informed some friends that four years (two terms) is sufficient to ask of any citizen and some of the other citizens should accept the responsibility a while.

Absentee balloting is scheduled to start next Wednesday, March 30, according to the statute adopted by the city a few years ago.

RESUMPTION RAIL COMMISSION HEARING ON PRODUCTION SOUR GAS IN PANHANDLE IS PLANNED

AUSTIN, March 24.—(AP)—A railroad commission hearing on production conditions in the sour gas area of the Panhandle field will be resumed in Amarillo tomorrow.

It probably will be conducted by C. V. Terrell, commission chairman, and Ernest O. Thompson, commission member. E. V. Cottingham, chief engineer of the commission, will preside.

A hearing on rules for sour gas production was held in Amarillo Feb. 22 and ordered continued when testimony was not completed.

While in Amarillo, commission officials also will consider the application of the Colorado Rock Island and Gulf railway to discontinue passenger trains No. 11 and 12 between the Texas-Oklahoma state line and the Texas-New Mexico state line through Dalhart.

The railway has been cited for contempt by the commission because it discontinued the trains Feb. 22 without permission.

Application of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway to discontinue passenger trains No. 73 and 74 between Brownwood and Temple and No. 27 and 28 between Fort Worth and the Texas-Oklahoma state line will be considered at a hearing in Temple April 1.

In all the cases seeking to curtail train service, the railroads give reasons of economy, declaring they are losing money.

The panhandle and Santa Fe railways have been authorized to close the station at McAulley and the Gulf Colorado and Santa Fe to demolish the depot and cotton platform at McCuskey.

Permission has been granted the Fort Worth and Denver City and the Colorado Rock Island and Gulf railways to close the agency at Reagor Springs and operate the point as a prepay station.

ARMY APPARENTLY GIVING ATTENTION PACIFIC DEFENSES

LARGE PART OF PROPOSED APPROPRIATIONS ALLOCATED TO WESTERN AREA

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—Allocations proposed in the $447,808,555 war department bill indicated today that the army, like the navy, is giving particular attention to key defenses in the Pacific area.

The bulk of a $6,748,559 allotment for seacoast defenses was earmarked to strengthen strategic points on the Pacific coast, in Hawaii and at the Panama Canal.

Of $12,755,259 requested to meet a "critical" deficiency in anti-aircraft weapons and equipment, $3,763,540 was allotted specifically to the Pacific area.

These are aside from the general provision for men, guns and aircraft to be assigned to mobile forces in all parts of the nation and overseas possessions.

Exact details of the coast armament program are a military secret, given house committee men in confidence. But tables in the published testimony of hearings on the bill listed such items as $52,610,000 for gas-proofing and $1,576,000 for ammunition storage in Hawaii alone.

The war department appropriation bill, the largest received by congress in 18 years, included $8,800,000 asked by President Roosevelt last January for anti-aircraft material.

Y Membership Campaign Meeting Liberal Response

The Y. M. C. A.'s streamlined membership and financial campaign by mail, entered its second day Thursday and officials reported a number of checks were being received, some of them more than last year's subscription. At a recent meeting of the directors it was decided to make this year's annual drive a "mail campaign" instead of the highly organized type of sales drive that has been used in past years, in order to conserve the time of the busy businessmen.

Today, Y officials urged that every man and boy join the Y, and said they are hopeful of securing a sufficient amount of funds through pledges and memberships to operate for another year.

"We want every man and boy to line up and join the Y. M. C. A.," they said, and "Corsicana has supported the Y. M. C. A. for the past 52 years, and we have faith that the public will support the association now."

PRESIDENT READS WHAT NEWSPAPER SAY ABOUT HIS ADDRESS

ROOSEVELT INSTALLED IN VACATION COTTAGE AT WARM SPRINGS, GA.

WARM SPRINGS, Mar. 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, established at a vacation retreat here, today read editorial and congressional reaction to his outspoken "enemy stronghold" plea for higher wages in southern industries.

Secluded in his white cottage among the trees on Pine Mountain, he called for newspapers of the "lower south," where opposition to his wage-hoop bill has centered and whose industries, he declared at Gainesville, Ga., yesterday, are paying their workers wages that are "far too low."

He placed his opponents in and out of congress in the same category with "feudal" overlords and inferentially prophesied those who "opposed progress" would fail to meet the test in the fall elections.

To a throng massed in Gainesville's new civic center and to congressional wage bill opponents seated on the same platform with him he said bluntly:

"To those in and out of public office, who still believe in the feudal system—and believe in it, honestly—the people of the United States and in every section of the United States are going to say 'we are sorry, but we want people to present us whose minds are cast in the 1938 mould and not in the 1888 mould.'"

SIX INDICTMENTS RETURNED; GRAND JURY DISCHARGED

LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES AND COUNTY HOSPITAL BOARD PRAISED

Six indictments were returned to District Judge Wayne R. Howell Wednesday afternoon by the grand jury. The indictments were returned against Vernon Patterson, assault with intent to murder; Clyde Rhodes, burglary, three cases, and Garland Ivey, theft of chickens.

The report of the grand jury stated the jury had been in session eight days, had examined 112 witnesses and had returned 23 indictments.

Praise Hospital.

A special committee from the grand jury visited the P. and S. hospital a county institution and the report said the hospital was being managed efficiently and economically. The private rooms and ward were clean, comfortable, the report continued, and the kitchen and heating plant are well equipped.

The grand jury, being informed that this institution is out of debt for the first time in many years, desires to express its congratulations to the Navarro County Hospital Board for their efficient management. Likewise, the grand jury extends to Miss Edna Benson, the superintendent, the point as a prepay station.

NUMEROUS SMALL IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS ORDERED BY HIGHWAY COMMISSION IN SPRING CAMPAIGN

AUSTIN, March 24.—(AP)—Engineers received orders from the highway commission today for numerous road improvements in addition to major projects contemplated for spring.

The commissioners yesterday earmarked $50,000 for purchasing and installing at locations to be determined by surveys 120 flasher type traffic lights and 40 stop and go signs, and authorized expenditure of $24,508 for painting center stripes on 1,097 miles of road to be designated in the Houston, Yankum, Austin, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Beaumont, Pharr and Del Rio divisions.

In addition, they earmarked $8,500 for operating from June 1 to September 1 information of fices at Pecos, Farwell, Texline, Shamrock, Wichita Falls, Gainesville, Denison, Paris, Marshall and Orange and for continued operation of other offices at Laredo, Texarkana and El Paso.

Other orders by counties included:

Hill, asphalt surfacing U. S. Highway 77 from the Ellis county line 3.9 miles south.

Midland, asphalt surfacing U. S. Highway 80 from the Ector county line to Warfield.

Harrison, asphalt surfacing U. S. Highway 80 from Hallsville to Marshall.

Fannin, ordered plans prepared and bids received for grading approaches to Red River bridge on Highway 78 north of Bonham and appropriating $10,800.

Marshall and Grayson, asked the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads to make eligible for federal aid the section of Highway 78 between Bonham and the Red River bridge and when sufficient mileage becomes available.

Grayson, appropriated $1,166 to remove land slides from U. S. Highway 75 between Denison and the Red River and $2,062 for removing dirt to clear the roadway and ditches along U. S.

ONLY CLASS LINES JESUS RECOGNIZED WERE VERTICAL

No Upper or Lower, But Only Good and Bad
—Snarling Criticism From Aristocrats of His Own Day—Real Religion Defined.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

After all and after all,
Since ever the world began,
Just two have lived, and two have died.

In lowly men, in lordly pride,
The rogue and the honest man.
After all and after all,
The classes are but two;
And both are rich and both are poor.

And both still know as they knew before,
The things they ought to do.
After all and after all,
Beap it we never can;
Only the choice of one have we,
And you must be and I must be
A rogue or an honest man.

—John Randolph Sidman.

The incisive mind of the new Teacher from Galilee, who was great in His simplicity, thus lined up society. The only line He ever drew was vertical, between the good and the bad, the sheep and the goats. No horizontal lines for Him, separating men into upper classes, middle classes and lower classes. He set humanity into two camps, the wicked and the goodly.

The old negro's definition of election is not far astray. Without the dialect the story goes that the negro said, "You see,
there is an election being held to choose who will be king of your soul. Both God and Satan are candidates. You are the only voter. And whichever way you vote, that is the way the election goes." Reduced to its simplicity, life is a choice between God and Satan.

In the Ceremonious East.
This fresh-spirited western world has had the vigorous good sense not to let its religion become a mere matter of ceremony. There have been attempts to fix upon abstinence from certain practices—as card-playing, dancing, theatre-going, for instance—as the sign and test of godliness.

This has failed, because Christianity is a religion of the spirit, and the wholesome sanity of the church has recoiled from these attempts to label any outward forms and observances however good in themselves, as vital Christianity. We have all seen too many instances of men who do none of the doubtful things, such as smoking, card-playing,
etc., who nevertheless show none of the spirit of the Gospel. It is altogether possible for one to obey all these prescriptions and yet be too mean to live with human beings.

This sort of thing is the essence of Pharisaism. Conformity to outward ceremonies as distinguished from a religion of the spirit, begets insincerity. The old Jews had added to the forms of the Mosaic law a bewildering array of details of ceremonial. Then,
as now, the East loved a religion of ceremonial. The Koran is full of it. Even as a Moslem may observe the intricate ritual of motions and washings and prayers and fastings and pilgrimages, and still remain a cruel, blood-thirsty, lecherous oppressor of his fellow men, so the Pharisee could keep the ceremonial law, even down to giving a tithe out of the mint patch in his back yard, and yet remain a moral monster.

And to be sure, if we are not unacquainted with the type of church officer who has incarnated in himself the criminal practices of big business,
we have an unholiness of spirit which has an unholy alliance with corrupt politicians, who has rented property at high rates for evil purposes, who has underpaid his employees and kept child laborers under the yoke.

That is the sort of man whom this rugged, truth-telling Carpenter arraigned openly, thereby causing social consternation. Every active church member should examine himself carefully, in the light of this tremendous passage of Scripture, remembering that the blistering "woe unto you" was addressed to the professionally religious, and not to the outcast and disreputable.

The Democracy of Sincerity Never was this particular teaching of Jesus more timely than now. This is the era of revolt against class dominance.
The churches feel this. We have entered the day of democracy;
and democracy demands and
must have sincerity as its basis.
Only true men are fit to govern themselves and one another. The moment pretense arrives, real democracy begins to depart.

"Truth in the inward parts" is the very life blood of democracy.
And for that Jesus pleaded.
Woe and only woe, awaits the person who builds up a religious life primarily for other people's eyes to see. Religion is not reputation; it is character. It is the hidden, godward side of life.
The Father Who seeth in secret is its judge and rewarder.
The faith taught by the Master and the apostles is a life "hid"
with Christ in God; it shuns the street corners and the chief seats. There is nothing professional or self-parading about it.

The Good Time Coming.
Everybody is asking how we are going to solve our clamorous social problems. Some look over-eagerly to legislation. Others put their hope in the slow processes of education. Still others merely trust to luck.
But the Jesus way, as here indicated, is the fundamental way.
He wants a social order based upon sincerity and service. His program for a better world is by better men and women. The kingdom which He established, and upon which He pinned His faith, is made up of individuals who accept His platform and share His life.

But now there is being organized as a consequence of last Summer's world conferences in Oxford and Edinburgh, a committee which shall be the voice of Protestantism in all its divisions. The project has its perils, as well as its advantages. It reflects the organization mood of our era, which, in politics, expresses itself in the totalitarian state. It upturns the figure of authority. Whereas Jesus was content to establish His kingdom upon the foundation of individual, personal discipleship, His call is to men and women, boys and girls, one by one, to walk His way, to follow Him.

There have been areas wherein religious thought overemphasized individualism; but forever the need abides for men and women whose lives are kept right in the sight of God. Among the friends of Jesus there is no divorce evil,
no scandal of double living, no oppression of other men, no cruel wealth and no bitter poverty.
When the religion of the spirit reigns, and people live with the supreme ambition to be well-pleasing unto Christ, the inside of the cup is clean, even if the outside is not polished.

ARMY HALF MILLION CHINESE FARMERS IS HARASSING JAPS

REDS ARE MAKING PUSH IN-TO CENTRAL CHINA HAZ-ARDOUS AFFAIR

WITH THE CHINESE RED ARMY IN CENTRAL HOPEH PROVINCE, March 23.—(AP)—An army of 500,000 Chinese farmers with Bolshevik Leninism for its daily gospel, is making increasingly hazardous the Japanese push into Central China.

Manufacturing their own rough armaments in 12 small arsenals, or capturing them in battle, the troops are directed by red leaders who have fashioned a socialist state of 7,000,000 Chinese in this province, nominally in Japanese hands.

The army strikes suddenly in guerrilla warfare, and in the past four months repeatedly has cut Japanese communications lines in the north Central China area.

About a thousand Japanese in 36 garrisons have been wiped out, the communists say, by sudden attacks. The troops are aided in this guerrilla warfare by a spy network through which Japanese garrison changes are ascertained with five hours of their accomplishment.

Three-fourths of the troops are equipped only with spears, broadswords or hand grenades. The others have rifles.

Cavalry battalions of 1,500 men each bear the brunt of any offensive, and each unit of 14 men in these battalions is equipped with a machine-gun.

With the policy of the newly formed Socialist state "to unite the landlords and peasants against Japanese imperialism," General Yu Cheng-Tsao said troops "are given three hours instruction on Leninism daily."

Army Self-Sustaining. The army is self-sustaining with the aid of the new state and its population of 7,000,000, raising its own foodstuffs, operating 14 hospitals, ten radio stations, 3,000 miles of telephone wires, 17 daily newspapers and one magazine.

The 12 arsenals manufacturing rifles, mortars and ammunition. There now are 17 state district governments controlling the socialist state, an area the size of Connecticut and 200 miles behind Japanese lines between the Japanese-held Peiping-Hankow and Tientsin-Pukow railways.

An administration set up by red leaders during the past four months is directing the mobilization and maintenance of the guerrilla army.

In addition to the Hopeh Reds, Chinese communists have forces under separate headquarters west of the Peiping-Hankow railway and they report great success in stalling the Japanese.

General Yu says the communist organization was authorized by the Chinese government in a mandate of December, 1937, permitting the Reds to organize a "Hoph-Chahar-Shansi border government," with a capital at Fuping, in western Hoeh province.

The central Hopeh Red State now is operating under orders from Fuping, which lies across Japanese-occupied territory from the central area. It is one of five

Houston Visited By Half Million Dollar Blaze

HOUSTON, March 22.—(AP)—A four-alarm downtown fire this morning destroyed Waddell's House Furniture Company and spread to the Christ church and other buildings, causing damage of more than $500,000. The fire broke out at 5 a. m. The furniture building and all merchandise were destroyed.

Plateglass windows in buildings in the vicinity were broken out by the heat. Six firemen were injured, but not seriously, and after threatment went back to their posts. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Damage to the furniture company, housed in a six-story brick building, was estimated at $350,000. Rev. James P. Wolff, rector of Christ church, estimated the damage to the church building at approximately $100,000. The Hamilton Shirt Company, three-story building, appeared from the furniture company building by a small alleyway, was badly damaged. The Wilson Stationery Company was damaged $22,000.

According to witnesses, the fire spread out from a prairie avenue side. Some persons reported hearing what sounded like several explosions which seemed to spread flames to all parts of the building.

Texas and Pacific Seeks Additional Freight Trucks

BONHAM, March 24.—(AP)—The Texas Railroad commission had under advisement today a petition of the Texas and Pacific railroad to add four freight truck trips daily between Sherman and Texarkana.

Commissioner Lon Smith concluded a hearing here yesterday. Railway representatives said the additional truck service was needed to serve more quickly the towns along its rail lines where shipments were delayed by switching operations at Sherman.

Small Red states in Hopeh, Shansi and Chahar provinces, all subordinate to Fuping.

Chinese Attempt to Escape. SHANGHAI, March 23.—(AP)—Three hundred Chinese soldiers held in a concentration camp in the French concession stormed the barred wire barricades early today to escape. French authorities said one Tonkinese guard was killed.

Despite French assertions that none of the soldiers escaped, it was reported International Settlement police were searching Chinese hotels and lodging houses for 30 men armed with rifles and Japanese bayonets.

In the field, Chinese said Japanese forces were locked in a bloody stalemate, after nine days and nights of furious fighting at the Grand Canal, 22 miles north of the vital Suchow junction of the Lanchow and Tientsin-Pukow railways.

Japanese shock troops, supported by bombing planes, artillery and tanks, their tanks harassed by guerrillas, were unable to cross General Li Tsung-Jen's entrenched lines.

DECLARE NATIONAL PROGRESS HELD BACK BY SELFISHNESS FEW

PRESIDENT DECRIES FEUDAL
SYSTEM AND TELLS SOUTH
WAGES ARE TOO LOW

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Mar. 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt declared today that national progress and prosperity "are being held back chiefly because of selfishness on the part of a few."

In a prepared outdoor address replete with fresh attacks on "special privilege" and the "feudal system," which he ranked with fascism, the chief executive also bluntly told Georgia and the lower south that their wages were "far too low."

He called for "cooperation all along the line" to rebuild the nation on sounder lines. "We propose to go forward and not back," he said.

Stopping here en route from Washington to Warm Springs, Ga., for a ten-day rest, the President dedicated Roosevelt Square, center of Gainesville's resurrection, with federal aid, from a disastrous tornado two years ago.

Gainesville's cooperation in the rebuilding, he said, presented a principle which if applied to national problems would "amply solve our national needs."

Mr. Roosevelt then declared property was being retarded by a "selfish" minority who believe in a "different theory of government," give little thought to the "one third ill fed, ill clad and ill housed," and regard balancing the budget as more important than appropriating for relief.

"But this nation," he said in taking his audience back to the Harding, Coolidge and Hoover regimes, "will never permanently get on the road to recovery if we leave the methods and the processes of recovery to those who owned the government of the United States from 1921 to 1933."

Hitting at his critics in Congress, he said the "selfish" few, the "same type of mind" as those who "vote against legislation to help social and economic conditions, proclaiming loudly that they are for the objectives but do not like the methods and do not like the results."

Then turning to conditions in "this, my other state," the President spoke in vigorous language against low wages and low buying power. Many in the audience believed he was referring to opposition to the wage-hour bill by many southern congressmen.

"The purchasing power of the millions of Americans in this whole area is far too low," he said. "Most men and women who work for wages in this whole area get wages which are far too low. On the present scale of wages and therefore on the present scale of buying power, the South can not and will not succeed in establishing successful new industries."

Efficiency and Good Pay. "Efficiency in operating industries goes hand in hand with good pay, and the industries of the South can not compete with industries in other parts of the country, the North, the Middle West and the Far West unless the buying power of the South makes possible the highest kind of efficiency."

After declaring that buying power means better schools, health, hospitals and highways and stimulation of business and industry, he added:

"These things will not come to us in the South if we oppose progress—we believe in our hearts that the feudal system is still the best system."

"When you come down to it, there is little difference between the feudal system and the fascist system. If you believe in one, you lean to the other."

"With the overwhelming majority of the people of this state, I oppose feudalism, so do many things these who by virtue of their circumstances in life belong to the most prosperous five per cent of the population."

Eliminate Special Privilege. "Men and women in the property of the small store keepers, a growing number of the bankers and business men—they are coming more and more to see that the continuation of the American system calls for the elimination of special privilege, the dissemination of the whole of the truth, and participation in prosperity by the people at the bottom of the ladder, as well as those in the middle and at the top."

Then, as if he may have had an eye on the November elections, the President asserted:

which might lead to the use of our arms for a purpose other than our own defense are, first of all, defense of France and Belgium against unprovoked aggression.

"Britain also has treaty obligations to Portugal, Iraq and to Egypt."

The prime minister, in the most important British declaration of foreign policy since the World war, declared that Central Europe was not an area where vital British interests are at stake. (British has no special binding force to aid Czechoslovakia as it is bound to France and Belgium.)

But he warned plainly that if German aggression should result in war there Britain might be forced into it.

He urged peaceful settlement of Czechoslovakia's German minority problem and offered Britain's help in this.

He flatly turned down Soviet Russia's call for consultation against aggressor nations. His strongest warning to Germany to go slow in Central Europe was this:

"If war broke out it might be x x x quite impossible to say where it might end and what governments might be involved."

To the packed, intent house of commons the prime minister declared Britain must try to preserve peace, "because we know that in war there are no winners."

"I can not imagine any events in Europe which would change the fundamental basis of British foreign policy, which is the maintenance and preservation of peace," he said.

"However," he warned, "that does not mean that nothing would make us fight."

Cheers greeted this declaration. In the packed, intent house of commons, the prime minister declared Britain must try to preserve peace, "because we know that in war there are no winners."

Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador, sat in the diplomatic gallery for the first time, with diplomats representing every important world power.

The prime minister continued: "Bound by Treaties. "We are bound by certain treaty obligations which would entail upon us the necessity of fighting if the occasion arose; and I hope no one doubts that we should be prepared in such event to fulfill those obligations."

"Our object must always be to preserve those things which we consider essential without recourse to war, because we know that in war there are no winners."

"I do not deny that my original belief in the League (of Nations) as an effective instrument for preserving peace has been profoundly shaken, that arises from the present conditions of the league itself, due to recent events."

The prime minister said, however, he had not "ceased to believe that the league might be so revived and strengthened as to serve as an effective instrument for the preservation of peace."

Chamberlain was greeted by cheers when he entered and when he rose to speak.

Besides Kennedy, diplomats of Soviet Russia, France, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, China and other powers followed the address. Envoys of Germany and Italy apparently were not there.

Referring to sanctions against Italy's conquest of Ethiopia the prime minister said:

"In June, 1935, if we retain any vestige of the old world, we must admit we tried to impose upon the league a task which was beyond its powers."

He said the league was "a task which was beyond its powers."

the United States, are going to say, "we are sorry but we want people to represent us whose minds are cast in the 1938 and not in the 1898 mold."

"Gainesville suffered a great disaster. So did the nation in those eight years of false prosperity followed by four years of collapse."

Gainesville showed a united front for the good of its whole population, rich and poor alike. It rose to rebuild on sounder lines. "The United States is rising and is rebuilding on sounder lines. We propose to go forward and not back."

President Dedicates Square. GAINESVILLE, Ga., March 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, in a speech that surprised many of his hearers, called on the industrial South today to increase wages and buying power and asserted national progress and prosperity were being retarded chiefly by "selfishness on the part of a few."

The president spoke to a large crowd in dedicating "Roosevelt Square," a civic center of new buildings and parkways that rose from the ruins of a tornado two years ago with the help of federal funds.

Where the city's business district and some of its residential area lay in wreckage a week ago when the president passed through here, today there were gleaming new buildings and residences.

The tornado killed more than 200 in this city of 10,000 population.

Czech Nazis Gain. PRAHA, March 24.—(AP)—The naz movement in Czechoslovakia gained new adherents today when the German Christian Socialist party decided unanimously to dissolve and march with Konrad Henlein's student German (naz) party.

Edwin Zajicek, representing the christian socialists in the cabinet as minister without portfolio, resigned.

The addition of six deputies of this party brought Henlein's strength in the chamber to 55, making his bloc the largest in the chamber. Next is the Czech agrarian party with 45 seats.

The government, however, is supported by a coalition of Czechs and Slovaks with a total of 163 of the chamber's 300 members.

Expect Chamberlain Decline to Interfere. NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP)—Britain's sometimes uncommunicative Premier Chamberlain finally has yielded to demands from the house of commons and today is making a declaration of foreign policy under which in effect he is expected to decline to interfere with arms in central and eastern European troubles.

To put the thing in more general terms, England doesn't intend to embark on any military adventure which isn't distinctly in the interests of No. 1—and she believes Mr. Chamberlain does, which is the same thing that her interests in eastern Europe are negligible.

It should be emphasized here that this quasi "isolationist" policy relates only to the employment of force, and doesn't mean that England is withdrawing from participation in the affairs of Europe.

Britain's program provides that she would go to the defense of France if the latter were attacked, or to the defense of Belgium or Holland, for that matter.

It would be very much in John Bull's interest to fight for these countries. They are to all intents buffer states for England. To be sure, there is the English Channel, but that would look mighty narrow to the home-folk if an enemy were coming on the other shore. Britain couldn't afford to let her neighbors get trounced.

possible location and through examinations would be made of the suitability and advantages of each before the final decision was reached. The board agreed to expedite the selection of a site in order to start construction as soon as possible.

Permanent Plans. A. F. Mitchell was named chairman of a planning and landscape sub-committee to work with architects and others in the final plans for the permanent plant which is expected to combine attractiveness and utility.

The directors agreed that the fair grounds should always be available for public and civic enterprises, and should serve as a city-county park. The board insisted that the project would not be limited to the bounds of this county, but every effort should be made to secure the participation of every county adjoining Navarro. Plans were discussed for a statewide livestock exhibit in connection with the annual fair.

The directors accepted the week of October 3 as the date for the first show in the new plant.

CRIMINAL APPEALS COURT RULES NEGRO MUST DIE IN CHAIR

FINAL DECISION AFFIRMING VERDICT OF DEATH FOR
CHARLIE EDWARDS

AUSTIN, March 23.—(AP)—The court of criminal appeals today made final its decision Charlie Edwards, Brazoria county negro, must die in the electric chair for slaying his wife.

The court affirmed the sentence several weeks ago, rejecting defense exceptions to trial procedure in which Edwards had claimed he was sometimes subjected to strange actions because a "hoodoo" man once put "dust" on him. In a second review it found nothing to warrant a rehearing.

The court reversed and remanded a life sentence given G. C. Ellis of Taylor county for horse theft. It held the indictment charging Ellis had been four times previously convicted of felony offenses was improperly drawn. It said one previous conviction, for which a suspended sentence was given, was not effective. It reversed and remanded a 15-year sentence assessed Gene Hill of Red River county for murder because testimony of a physician "was an unwarranted and serious invasion of the jury's province." A trial contention was whether Martha Durham was killed by Hill or whether her fatal injuries were received in an automobile accident.

A rehearing was denied Hugh R. Stanfield of Val Verde county, given life for rape of Virginia Stanfield, his daughter.

Court Proceedings. AUSTIN, March 23.—(AP)—Proceedings in the court of criminal appeals today included: Affirmed—Joe Evans from Wise; W. T. Hittson from Childress.

Appeal dismissed at request of appellant—Wade Hutto from Shelby (2 cases).

GRAND JURY

perpetrator of the 12 and S. hospital its congratulations and commendation for the cleanliness of the buildings and the efficiency of her service, and to express the hope that she will continue in her splendid work," the report continued.

Officers Complimented. The grand jurors complimented the law enforcement generally, and commended the efforts of Cleo C. Miller, criminal district attorney, and his assistants. The sheriff's department and city police department were complimented in furnishing evidence when called upon.

The report recommended to the commissioners court that electricity for lights and fans be placed in the grand jury room at the courthouse. Additional mattresses were recommended for the county jail. The jail was reported in good sanitary condition.

Signers of the final report were C. O. Weaver, foreman; N. Suttie Roberts, secretary; J. E. Walker, J. H. Stokes, W. B. Talley, R. W. Varnell, L. L. Farmer, C. E. Massey, Earl Easterling, H. I. Singleton, C. C. Roberts and Earl Seale.

Rehearing Denied. AUSTIN, March 23.—(AP)—The court of criminal appeals today denied the state a rehearing in the cases of Placido Handy and Ascension (Chon) Martinez whose death sentences for murder of an unknown man were reversed and remanded recently.

The single issue on appeal was the time of organizing the grand jury which indicted the men. The appellate court had ruled the jurors should have been chosen at a court term preceding the term in which the indictments were returned. It rejected additional authorities cited by the state in a motion for a rehearing.

REVIVAL MEETING FULL GOSPEL CHURCH IS WELL ATTENDED

The revival services at the Full Gospel church were well attended on Wednesday night, and God's approval was upon the entire service. The Rev. Leroy Sanders the seventeen-year-old evangelist brought a stirring message reading from Judges 16:28-30. The speaker likened Sampson, the Nazirite of such great strength to Jesus, the Son of God who descended from the heavens, became poor, despised, rejected, weak, and even died that the chiefest of sinners might enjoy eternal life through the ceaseless ages of eternity.

There will be service every night this week except Saturday at 7:45 and prayer service each morning at 10. Those who fail to take this trip—Raymond, John, and Leroy Sanders, are missing a great blessing. They are young men who have consecrated their lives to God, and He is blessing their ministry. We cordially invite you to attend each of the remaining services of this revival. You are welcome.

TEXAS CONVICTS START SERIES OF RADIO BROADCASTS

HUNTSVILLE, March 24. —(AP)—Convict-made music hurriedly prepared via radio here last night for the first time in the history of the Texas prison system.

The broadcast, over station WEAP of Fort Worth, was the first of a series of weekly programs designed to give outsiders "20 minutes behind the walls" and to acquaint the public with the rehabilitation activities in prison. Members of the prison board who arranged the broadcast said the program would include material to indicate that convicts are being prepared to resume their places in organized society upon their release.

Gov. James V. Allred, on the opening program, said he hoped the series of broadcasts would "present a word picture of conditions as they have been, contrasted with what they are."

The broadcasts are prepared, announced and presented by inmates. Last night's announcer was L. C. Keel, or Ardmore, Okla., serving 30 years for robbery. The orchestra leader was Jack Purvis of El Paso, serving 25 years for robbery.

Negro spirituals and swing music were among the offerings last night.

The strains of "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot, for to Carry Me

Home" frequently have been heard in the cotton patches of the prison system farms, but the radio broadcasts offered prisoners their first opportunity to project their talent from behind the walls.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE

The real cause of war in China, explains Dr. Francis Cho Min Wei, president of a native college in Wu-chang, lay in the overde-veloped industries of Japan. Facing tariff barriers every-where as a result of their persistent underselling, "the Japanese cast about for a land with rich natural re-sources and a large popula-tion to provide a ready and continuous market for their goods."

The Japanese imperialists may find, however, that they have reckoned without their customers. There was a considerable boycott of their goods in China before the present invasion, caused by Chinese resentment at previous invasions and ag-gressions. That boycott is naturally intensified now, and may continue long af-ter Chinese resistance has van-ished—a process which will evidently take some time yet.

India, led by Gandhi, tried "passive resistance" against British rule, with slight success. China may yet accomplish, by passive resistance against Japan, what she could not do by active resistance.

VANISHING DISEASES

A single case of small-pox was discovered in Cleveland recently. It was news, not because of the seriousness of the disease but because of its rarity. It is the first case in that city since 1931. A spread of the disease is not expected; most citizens are already immunized against it, and the authorities know how to isolate the case.

Only 37 years ago Cleve-land had 1,248 cases of smallpox and 224 deaths from it. Less than a century ago it devastated the Mid-dle West. Two hundred years ago it was one of the great human scourges. To-day smallpox, bubonic plague, and yellow and ty-phoid fever have been al-most eliminated through effective prevention. Medi-cal science's victory over that quartet gives great promise that the tubercu-losis (already declining), pneumonia, cancer and cer-tain chronic ailments usual-ly fatal will eventually yield to advancing knowl-edge and co-operative measures.

PRIZE-WINNING BOOKS

The American Booksellers Association has an-nounced its 1937 prizes. The winners are A. J. Cro-nin's "The Citadel," Eve Curie's "Madame Curie," Carl Crow's "400 Million Customers," and Lawrence Watkin's "On Borrowed Time." Mr. Crow's book was rated "most original" and Mr. Watkin's "most deserving book which failed to receive adequate recog-nition."

The booksellers' awards differ from others because they are frankly based on personal preferences. In an-nouncing the awards, it was carefully explained that "the booksellers merely vote for their favorite books. Twenty years from now we can decide which are the masterpieces. This year we can only decide which books we enjoyed reading the most."

Twenty years from now it may be interesting to compare the booksellers' choices with the Pulitzer prize winners for this or any other year. Which group will last in popular and critical favor? Or will time's choice fall on works overlooked by both these groups of experts?

PAINTING TIME.
Yesterday I caught her looking up and down about the place with that "time-for-spring-inspec-tion" grim expression on her face.
And I saw her stare in horror at that spot upon the door.
Where the dog had scratched for entrance twenty times a day or more.

I saw her reading scribble on the woodwork painted white.
Which is always bound to happen after children learn to write.
And I watched her gazing sadly at the dismal streaks and stains.
Which invariably follow winter snows and summer rains.

In a manner rather doleful up and down her finger went.
On the window frames and col-umns—and I knew just what that meant!
Well, I know she shortly told me that the home is a disgrace.
And I'd better make my mind up once again to paint the place.

ANNUAL WAGE PLAN.

In discussion of wage-hour legislation many facts come to light which the average citizen has over-looked hitherto. One of these is the existence of 200 different profit-sharing ar-rangements in American in-dustry. Senator Vandenberg has started an inquiry into the methods used and their success. Closely al-lied with this is the annual wage plan already followed by many concerns.

A recent witness before the Senate unemployment committee told of his com-pany's change from an hourly wage scale to an an-nual wage system. Under the former, there were fre-quent lay-offs and expen-sive seasonal activity. The company then studied the annual wage possibilities, finally guaranteeing its em-ployees 52 pay checks a year, with vacation and sick leave added.

The workers, he claims, have profited in increased income and greater leisure. "We don't keep any partic-ular check on hours except for information pur-poses," said the head of the company. "The idea is that here is the work to do, and when it is done the workers can go home."

The company itself has profited by eliminating sea-sonal rushes and slumps in production. It finds also that workers' efficiency has increased 10 to 20 per cent on the annual wage sys-tem.

GLASS AND TIN

Among the significant in-dustrial changes is that of drink containers. Beer, which always used to come in bottles, is now retailed largely in tin cans. Ginger ale and other carbonated beverages are said to be following suit. As a result, the bottle-manufacturers are getting worried.

Possibly an answer to that worry would be the in-vention of a variety of glass tougher and less brittle, so that beverage containers could be made of thinner and lighter glass, in any de-sired form, at no greater cost than the tin contain-ers. The long-range chances, too, may be with glass be-cause the materials from which it can be made are far more plentiful than the metals, and our tin has to be imported.

At any rate, there are sure to be more uses for glass hereafter, especially in building. The glass house idea is no longer a joke, and we may have stores, factories and schools with glass walls before many years.

ISLANDS.

Islands are looking up these days. Nations take more and more interest in them, no matter how dis-tant or isolated, as aviation spreads and they need landing and roosting places for their flyers.

Uncle Sam, long careless of such matters because we had more real estate at home than we could use, is waking up now and scan-ning the map for unused bits of land in the Pacific that have harbors where planes or ships may find shelter. Particularly in Polynesia, the region of "many islands" in the southwestern Pacific, near Australia and New Zea-land.

To many islands there, unoccupied or held by doubtful claimants, the United States may have a lawful claim by virtue of prior discovery in the old whaling days. It would be foolish to go around claim-ing everything in sight; but a chain of such islands, to serve as landing and fuel-ing stations and refuges against storms, and perhaps also supply posts for naval vessels, would be very use-ful hereafter. They are needed especially to serve the new commercial air routes.

It is probably unneces-sary to get into any squab-ble with any other nation about them. In case of any honest dispute with other claimants, especially the British countries, it should be possible to handle the matter on a friendly and businesslike basis, buying what we need if our title isn't clear.

COMPENSATION RIGHTS

There have been many arguments as to whether employees dismissed for breaking employers' rules, as by marriage or misbe-havior, are eligible for un-employment compensation. A ruling by the secretary of labor and industry in Penn-sylvania says they are:

"A woman dismissed from her job because she marries is not leaving her employment voluntarily, but is dismissed from the ser-vice in which she was en-gaged because of company policy.

"If a woman is dismissed from her employment be-cause she violates any other company rule such as smok-ing or boisterous conduct, she would still be entitled to compensation if all the other elements requisite to obtaining unemployment compensation were present."

Further treatment of the problem in other states, plus opinions by federal of-ficials and decisions by the courts, will be awaited with interest. It is obviously necessary to be fair to em-ployees, and for them to have full confidence in the unemployment compensa-tion system; yet cases are likely to arise where pay-ment of compensation seems undeserved.

Plenty of us just now would like to follow Uncle Sam's example and get ourselves islands in the South Seas.

One Variety Cotton For Navarro County

Your County Cotton Improvement Committee After Investigation of Several Leading Varieties Has Selected

BRYANT COTTON

as the variety best suited to meet the needs of growers—in their effort to improve the quality of staple. We recom-mend that each community in the county organize promptly, make arrangements with their ginners for a group purchase of Pedigreed seed at a reduced price and each farmer plant a seed block of sufficient size to pro-vide seed for planting his general acreage next season.

By this means we can improve and maintain the quality of our cotton and regain the prestige of Texas Cotton in the world markets.

Extension service workers, agricultural leaders and busi-ness interest heartily indorse the one variety move as the best way to improve and maintain cotton quality on a statewide basis.

Your co-operation will help make the program a success.

Let's all pull together for a bigger cotton income!

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS RIGHTS STATE OVER TAXES

AUSTIN, March 23.—(AP)—The right of the state to exercise strict supervision over delinquent tax collection contracts executed was upheld again by the supreme court today.

The tribunal voided a contract between El Paso county and a group of "ferrets." The county, victorious in lower courts, had contended the primary purpose of the agreement was not to collect delinquent taxes but to add to the current rolls personal property which had been escaping taxation.

The contract provided for payment of the "ferrets" of 25 percent of current and delinquent taxes collected on personal property they discovered. The maximum in delinquent tax collection contracts is 15 percent. The El Paso agreement was not approved by the attorney general and comptroller, which approval is required by law in delinquent tax collection suits.

"The contract not only contemplates the collection of taxes out of personal property for taxation for 1937 but also adds 'or years prior thereto.' Finally, the contract provides payments shall be made to tax ferrets out of taxes actually collected."

80th Birthday Being Observed By S. E. Willis

S. E. Willis, well preserved physically, alert of mind, active and still greatly interested in the happenings of the times, is quietly observing his 80th birthday today, making his usual rounds and receiving the congratulations of his many friends.

Accompanied by his father and mother, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Willis, he arrived in Corsicana October 28, 1873, shortly after the completion of the railroad to this city. At that time there was only one brick building in Corsicana which was in a very run-down condition, Mr. Willis recalls.

His first job was with a livery stable which he lost because he refused to work on Sunday. Next Mr. Willis carried a mail route from Corsicana to Athens "on a mule."

For thirty-two years Mr. Willis worked at the carpenter trade in this city.

"I have been a subscriber to the Corsicana Daily Sun for thirty-five years," Mr. Willis said.

A son, P. E. Willis, also well known in Corsicana, resided in Los Angeles, Calif., until his death. Mr. Willis was received by Mr. Willis from his son today.

Mr. Willis was born in Litchfield, Ill., March 24, 1858.

Emhouse PTA Met In Regular Session On Thursday Afternoon

The Emhouse P. T. A. met Thursday, March 24, at 3:45 p. m. in the school auditorium.

With Mrs. E. E. Harville presiding, the meeting was opened with a business session; $10 for athletics, $10 for home economics and $13.33 for the birthday offering was reported paid. Mr. Taylor stated over $17 was realized from the Stamp Quartet program. B. W. Gamble reported $14.53 more on the home sale making the total proceeds from this sale $36.55.

The following members were elected as delegates to attend the district meeting at Palestine April 12: Mrs. Shivers, Mrs. Harville and Mrs. Hamilton. These three delegates have the privilege of selecting one more to accompany them.

After Mrs. Taylor's discussion of the "Texas Society for Crippled Children" and its sale of Easter Seals, the P. T. A. agreed to sponsor the sale of 1,000 Easter Seals for the aid of crippled children in Texas. There are 400 crippled children in Navarro county for the aid of medical attention. One of the objectives of the P. T. A. is to help child welfare. It is very fitting for it to sponsor such a sale.

The topic for discussion at this meeting was "The Family Forum." Mrs. Stokes discussed "Parents Set the Example." Education is a reflection of individual living—moral and ethical character. There is a pressing need of character training in child life for the foundation is laid at this age. Discipline begins in infancy. The best school cannot save a bad home character. The character of a child is the reflection of parents' examples. The right sort of home life has religion for the background. The child must also have love and harmonious and satisfying relations to the family. He expresses his love to his family and goes as a help to the world. Spiritual training and moral go hand in hand with mental and physical training. Parents set the example for life.

Mrs. Bennett discussed "The Family Council." The family should plan a budget and live within it. Each member of the family should make his special contribution to meet expenses and to live within the family income. A co-operative budget teaches responsibility and furnishes something for each member to look forward to and plan for.

The sixth grade received the honor of having the greatest number of parents present.

The next meeting will be held at night in the school auditorium, April 21. Everyone is invited to be present and spend an enjoyable evening—Publicity Chairman.

Clark, pastor of the North Corsicana Methodist church, assisted by Rev. M. D. Lowry, pastor of the Tupelo Methodist church.

Surviving are two sons, L. M. Williams, Tupelo and W. H. Williams, Houston; a brother, Henry Thomas, Smithville, Miss.; a number of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and other relatives.

For County Judge.
To The Citizens of Navarro County:

During the past few months I have had frequent inquiries in reference to my individual plans and numerous solicitations encouraging me to become a candidate for County Judge, but have withheld any definite decision until this time. I have now become convinced that the state of the public mind is such as to indicate a very general desire therefor and have concluded to announce my candidacy for the office of County Judge of Navarro County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries.

At my retirement from the position of Assistant Criminal District Attorney, on the death of Hon. John R. Curington, in April of last year, I had completed over fourteen years of close and intimate contact with, and active and vigorous service in the courts of the county, with fidelity and ability, and with some degree of distinction and commendation, as a public official.

I am now seeking the opportunity to again serve and represent the interests of the people, in the more responsible capacity of County Judge—the office of vast importance to the civic, economic, financial and moral welfare of the entire citizenship of the county, for it is the one office, within the gift of the people, wherein the powers and functions of our government, legislative, executive and judicial, are all consolidated and vested in a single individual.

The Constitution and Statutes require of the County Judge, that he "shall be well informed in the law of the State" and also provide that the rules of practice and procedure shall obtain and apply in the exercise of civil, criminal and probate jurisdictions of both the County and District Courts. The general duties of the office are so varied in their nature and character, and the responsibilities of their application are so great, that a comprehensive knowledge and understanding of, and experience and qualifications in construing the law, are likewise essential and necessary to the capable and successful administration.

However, even more important, in my opinion, are the functions of the office, in the relation of the County Judge to the Commissioners' Court and the general business interests of the county government, the expenditure of the people's tax dollars, with economy, efficiency and frugality and in the administration of the laws enacted by the Legislature for the regulation and control of County Finances and Taxation, the conduct and management of its various departments and institutions, and the direction and supervision of its agencies and offices, to which their time and efforts are so largely devoted.

With the requisite qualifications and knowledge of the law, and mature judgment and ripe experience, acquired through the many years of service, in which I have labored and wrought as a public official, and in professional and business life, I now submit my candidacy to the people of Navarro County, seeking at their hands, and by their suffrage, a well-deserved promotion to one of the important judicial offices, within their power to bestow, and if elected, I will ever be at my post of service, engaged in the discharge of the duties of the office, and performing the obligations resting upon me, with justice, fairness and consideration to all, and for the best interests of the public welfare.

Sincerely yours,
CHRIS L. KNOX.

TWO PROPOSITIONS TO ODD FELLOWS BY CORSICANA REJECTED

Members of the Texas Grand Lodge, L. O. P., late Tuesday afternoon voted against the proposed consolidation of the I. O. O. F. Home school here with the Corsicana public school system as outlined in a proposition submitted to the Home board by W. P. McCammon, president of the Corsicana school board.

The proposal as made the Grand Lodge was that Corsicana absorb the Home school transferring the high school students to the city junior and senior buildings and maintaining the ward school at the Home.

The proposal was voted down following a considerable debate on the floor of the Grand Lodge after a committee report recommending the decision be left to the combined Grand Lodge trustee and Home board had been rejected and the question submitted on the floor of the session.

The Grand Lodge earlier in the day had declined "at this time" the offer of Corsicana Lodge No. 83, I. O. F., of free rent for headquarters for the Grand Lodge on the second floor of the Odd Fellows building for a period of ten years.

Richland PTA Met In Program Session Tuesday Evening

On Tuesday evening, March 15, the Richland P. T. A. presented a very enjoyable program in the high school auditorium. After calling the house to order, Mrs. N. J. Middlebrook, president, introduced G. H. Brown, county superintendent, as the main speaker for the evening.

Mr. Brown's discourse centered around school days which bring to the parent the realization that this business of schooling is a co-operative enterprise and brings certain responsibilities for the conscientious, intelligent parents.

According to Mr. Brown, the building of a beautiful life is more important than making a living. Mr. Brown's suggestions about child guidance were well received.

To justify the stress put upon co-operation, S. V. McCague presented the sixth and seventh grade pupils in a musical drill representing the decline of the Indian race and the territorial growth of the United States. Music was furnished by Mrs. Van Elkins and B. L. Koliman. The drill was very prettily staged. Jim Richards directed a cake auction to raise funds for the new piano. A nice little sum was collected here.

The next regular business meeting for the P. T. A. will be held the first Tuesday in April at 4 p. m. in the school building.—Reporter.

PLANS COMPLETED MEMBERSHIP DRIVE CORSICANA Y.M.C.A.

ANNUAL ROUND-UP, FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN ANNOUNCED FOR MARCH 23-25

In order to "conserve the energy and time of the busy business men," the Y. M. C. A. is laying plans for its annual membership round-up and financial campaign March 23, 24 and 25 by mail instead of the highly organized sales force of workers that has been in use in past years. This procedure was adopted at a meeting of the board last week, and preliminary work on the new system is being carried on this week by the Y. M. C. A. staff and members of the board.

The greatly enlarged activities of the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. that we now have, cause us to feel fully justified in asking our friends to support the institution and to increase their pledges. Pat H. Ramsey, general secretary said, "and we believe they will appreciate the opportunity to respond to our 'mail campaign' because we will not be taking their time from their businesses by personal solicitation. The twenty-one directors of the Y. M. C. A. appeal to the citizenship of Corsicana for serious thought and support of the Y. M. C. A. by joining the association."

In spite of the many handicaps the past year—due to the closing of the pool last summer on account of the infantile paralysis and the run down condition of the facilities—the past year record shows rapid growth and the rendering of a great service to the community, for which the association's directors and officials have received praise on every hand, the general secretary pointed out.

"None Turned Away."

"It probably would be possible to place the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. on a self-supporting basis financially by turning away all those who are unable to pay fees for the activities in which they have participated," General Secretary Ramsey said, "but if this were

TREASURY OFFICIAL URGES RETENTION OF PRESENT PROFIT TAX

UNDERSECRETARY OF THE TREASURY MAGILL DISMISSES TAX BURDENS

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—Roswell Magill, undersecretary of the treasury, appealed to the senate finance committee today to retain the undistributed profits tax.

He told the committee, in which a strong movement for repeal of the tax has been evident, "the treasury favors the retention of a tax upon undistributed corporate earnings as a means of equalizing the distribution of the total tax burden."

Under the tax revision bill passed by the house, Magill said, approximately 88 per cent of the 200,000 corporations which paid taxes in 1936 would be exempt from the undistributed profits tax. The house bill exempts corporations with incomes of less than $25,000 and Magill declared the house also had attempted to prevent hardships upon corporations both by specified exemptions and by lower rates.

The undersecretary urged retention of the bill of the special undistributed profits tax on closely held corporations which was drafted by the house ways and means committee, but was thrown out on the floor of the house.

He said the house ways and means committee's plan was designed "as a safeguard" against deliberate evasion.

At the same time, Magill submitted treasury estimates on a taxing program suggested in principle by Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the finance committee. A foe of the undistributed profits tax, "the treasury estimated that $40,500,000 more revenue than the house bill provides could be obtained by the alternate program."

That increase would be realized by the treasury forecast, if a 15 per cent flat rate on capital gains were substituted for the house-approved graduated scale and if the 10 per cent corporation income rate were substituted for the undistributed profits levy in the house bill.

Another treasury schedule, based on a flat 15 per cent levy on capital gains realized on assets held more than one year and on a flat 18 per cent corporation income tax, would increase by $17,100,000 the house approved levies.

Under questioning by committee members as to the revenue prospects of broadening the income tax base, Magill said that on the basis of 1937 business conditions a $70,700,000 revenue gain would be realized if exemptions for married persons were cut from $2,500 to $2,000 and for single individuals from $1,000 to $800.

Public Hearings Closed. After Magill's testimony, the committee closed public hearings. Members will begin revising the house tax revision bill in executive sessions starting Thursday.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the committee said he hoped the bill could be reported Saturday. The flat rates would bring varying increases in taxes on small corporations.

The undistributed profits tax, he continued, has been improved in the house bill to contain "some notable relief features for special cases."

"Corporations that are bankrupt, or that are insolvent and in receivership are exempt from the undistributed profits tax," he said. "So too are all banks, insurance companies, mutual investment companies, rental housing corporations, China trade act corporations, and corporations doing business from chiefly in possessions of the United States."

Magill described as equitable the revised capital gains tax in the house bill. The present law, he said, already gives capital gains—profits made on selling property or securities—better treatment than ordinary forms of income.

More Favorable Treatment. "They will receive still more favorable treatment under the house bill," he declared.

The undersecretary then turned to the present tax exemption of government securities, urging congress to take "effective action" promptly.

"So long as a vast reservoir of tax-exempt securities exists," he said, "it is difficult, or impossible to make any system of progressive surtax rates operate as effectively. Possibly the problem can be partially solved by a statutory provision, such for example, as that which was urged by Senator Carter Glass, when secretary of the treasury; possibly a constitutional amendment should be proposed as the most effective means of ending these tax exemptions for the future."

(For many years the constitution has been interpreted as prohibiting federal taxing of state and local government securities and local taxing of federal securities.)

Glass Proposal. (Glass proposed that income from exempted securities should be used to determine the tax bracket under which a person should come even though the income from the exempt securities could not be taxed.)

The undersecretary announced treasury opposition to the increased liquor tax and the special import tax on pork which were put in the bill by the house after it left the ways and means committee. He estimated the increased liquor tax would yield approximately $10,000,000 per year and that the pork tariff would produce no revenue.

"Both of these changes the treasury regards as undesirable," Magill said. "Consumption taxes in general take little account of the income or wealth of the taxpayer. x x x held the view, expressed by the secretary last fall, that the number of consumption taxes should be reduced as the state of revenues permits."

Tax on Farm Products. Meanwhile, support came from the senate agricultural committee for a system of taxes on farm products to increase benefit payments under the new administration program.

It voted at a closed hearing to ask the senate finance committee to conduct hearings on an amendment to the pending revenue bill proposed by Senator Pope (D-

CHAMBER COMMERCE PLANS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE MARCH 29-31

EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO RAISE ANNUAL BUDGET OF $8,000 TO $11,000

Details of a "membership campaign to end such drives" were presented to the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning at their regular bi-weekly meeting.

Mr. R. B. Brown, membership committee chairman, The drive will be staged on March 29, 30, 31. Minutes of the last session were read and approved with some corrections and additions. A number of communications from various organizations were read. It was announced the Navarro county copy of the complete historical account of the Texas Centennial movement would be placed in the Corsicana Public Library.

A letter was read from a Henderson resident asking when bluebonnets would be in bloom in this section. The board agreed that every effort should be made to publicize the various large areas of the native Texas flowers in this vicinity.

The survey expert. The board also agreed to invite Curtis Morris, tax survey expert for the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, to visit Corsicana and discuss the survey of such areas with the board after it had been reported a survey was made three years ago.

A. F. Mitchell was named on a special committee to assist chamber officials in securing a complete inventory of the properties of the organization.

J. N. Edens reported that most of the highway work needed in this county was "in the mill." He also reported on an agreement with Mabank residents seeking completion of a tentatively designated road from Canton to Corsicana which would require a bridge across the Trinity river.

regional aid will be sought on the project.

Membership Drive. Chairman Brown presented the membership drive which has a goal of raising the annual budget from $8,000 to $11,000. He stated both new members and increased support would be needed to reach the objective.

W. C. McKinney was named as one drive captain with C. S. Dickens and Russell Purifoy as lieutenants, while Joe E. Butler will captain the other group with F. H. Harvey, Jr., and J. W. Smith as lieutenants. A slogan of "A Thousand Dollars an Hour for Progress" has been adopted.

J. C. Bule, chairman of the dairying committee, reported only one meeting of his group has been held and their first objective was to get the farmers of the county to keep sufficient cows to supply the needs of their own families.

He pointed to the necessity of farmers growing most of their food supplies at home, particularly with the decreased acreage of cotton and corn.

After some discussion, the directors agreed that the chamber of commerce should complete the task of raising the $20,000 in subscriptions for the fair plant, and would also do the collecting job, leaving the fair director only the task of building and operating the fair.

MOTHER CORSICANA WOMAN DIED TUESDAY AT WHARTON HOME

J. A. Sanders received word Tuesday afternoon from his son, J. A. Sanders, Jr., of Houston, that his grandmother, Mrs. M. R. Bolton, of Wharton had just passed away. Mr. Sanders left for Wharton Tuesday evening to join his wife, who has been in the hospital of her aged mother the past two weeks.

Mrs. Sanders' many Corsicana friends regret to learn of Mrs. Bolton's passing, and join in extending deepest sympathy to her and her family.

Mrs. Bolton, who was past 85 years of age, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Outlar, who has cared for her tenderly for many years. She had been quite active in the U. D. C. work for many years, and at her death was honorary life member of the Texas State U. D. C., which she had served as vice president; and was still named as president of the Wharton chapter, although she had been inactive for several years.

She was a true Christian character and a life-long member of the Baptist church. She organized the infant Sunday school class and taught in the Sunday school until these infirmities had attained manhood and womanhood and had children of their own.

Wharton has lost a noble woman in the death of Mrs. Bolton.

Weekly Quotas For Valley Grapefruit Been Suggested

WESLACO, March 24.—(AP)—Weekly proration of 225,000 standard boxes of Rio Grande valley grapefruit for interstate commerce trade was suggested by the state department of the growers industry committee. The department estimated there would remain 796,807 boxes of grapefruit for movement this week. A weekly allowable of 225,000 boxes for three weeks was recommended.

Next week's allowable was set at that figure—25,000 boxes under the proration for the current week.

The shipping season officially closes May 1 when all fruit must be off the trees, under quarantine regulations.

(daho.) Chairman Harrison of the finance committee announced yesterday he was opposed to attaching the farm taxes to the pending revenue measure.

Pope estimated his proposal involving the equalization of taxes on cotton, wheat, tobacco, rice, field corn and synthetic fibers would provide an additional $122,000,000 for payments to farmers growing these crops.

Chairman Smith (D-SC) of the agricultural committee said he favored some move to give farmers benefits on a par with protective tariffs for industry.

United States Plans to Build Big Battleships

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—The United States has decided to invoke the escalator clause of the London naval treaty and build battleships larger than 35,000 tons, state department officials said today.

Secretary of State Hull said at his press conference that recommendations to this effect were being received from diplomatic and naval representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France, who have been consulting in London for nearly a month.

They have decided upon the necessity of invoking the escalator clause, officials said, and a formal notice of intention to invoke the clause is expected in a day or so.

The notice of intention will take the form of an exchange of notes between the United States and Britain.

France, however, it was understood, will not build battleships bigger than the 35,000 ton limit. The consultations in London are proceeding to determine what upper limit, if any, shall be set for the new super battleships.

The disclosure of naval plans came coincident with the start of house debate on the $147,000,000 war department appropriation bill, which Rep. Snyder (D-Pa.) declared should be even larger.

HUMBLE SERVICE STATIONS PICKETED DUE TO CONTRACT

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 24.—(AP)—All service stations of the Humble Oil and Refining Co., in Corpus Christi were being picketed today as the result of the refinery at Ingleside letting a contract to build a new building for which Barney Medus, spokesman for the Corpus Christi Trades Council, said was not paying union wages.

Picketing started this morning and Medus said building trades unions in Houston and other Texas cities had been requested to picket Humble property.

A national labor relations board now sitting at Baytown will be asked to conduct an investigation at Ingleside.

HOUSTON, March 24.—(AP)—A spokesman for the Humble company said today no pickets had appeared at this area as a result of a labor controversy over the installation of a boiler in the Ingleside refinery near Corpus Christi.

The spokesman said union leaders had charged the contractor was using non-union labor to install the boiler at the Ingleside plant. He said company officials considered the controversy a matter between the contractor and the union.

EXILED WINNER OF NOBEL PRIZE BLAMES GREAT BRITAIN

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—(AP)—Thomas Mann, exiled German winner of the Nobel prize for literature, blamed today for the increasing nazification of Europe.

America, he said in an interview, is becoming the one beaconlight of democracy and freedom, important as a world cultural center.

The all-shy, 63-year-old author declared: "England could have stopped Hitler. But it was not to be."

He said he was convinced that he did not want to do so and is actually helping him. A certain dominating group in England fears—not communism, which will move westward from Russia—but certain reforms which left-wing democrats are demanding.

"They want Hitler to remain dominant in the picture as a counter-balance to the demand for these reforms."

NORTH CALIFORNIA HAS ANOTHER STORM MAJOR PROPORTIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—(AP)—Northern California's worst storm interfered with rail and highway travel and communications today and threatened to isolate the counties of the Redwood empire from the rest of the state.

Blizzards raged in the mountains. Rain fell in the lowlands. Great waves battered the coast.

Sixty-five miles of the Redwood highway San Francisco and Eureka were closed last night by slides and fallen trees.

A continuous series of storms during the past 60 days have brought Europe's seasonal rainfall to more than 63 inches. The normal at this date is 32.63.

The Sacramento, San Joaquin and Eel Rivers threatened floods in Northern California.

Snow continued to fall in the Sienna Nevada.

NO OIL SHORTAGE IN SIGHT DECLARES A. P. I. EXECUTIVE

FIRST COMMERCIAL USE OF GAS IN SOUTHWEST SAID TO HAVE BEEN AT CORSICANA

FORT WORTH, March 24.—(AP)—More than 10 billion barrels of crude oil are to be found in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico, W. R. Boyd, Jr., executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute told the spring meeting of the institute's division of production, southwestern district, here today.

In 1931 it was predicted that the oil possibilities of Texas would be found to be negligible, Boyd said, pointing out that "the prophets of disaster" still "cry the scare of scarcity and seek to create alarms for impending shortage of oil."

Commenting on the economic value of the petroleum industry to the Southwest, Boyd declared it had brought into this territory $8,000,000,000 in new money.

Approximately 500 visiting oil men were on hand for the first sessions of the two day meeting.

Visitors came from all parts of Texas with the states of Louisiana and Arkansas sending their quota as well as a few from New Mexico.

History of administration of the oil industry in Texas and the oil industry in Texas were reviewed by Hiram M. Dow, lieutenant-governor of that state and representative of the Interstate Oil Compact commission.

Texas was the second state in the southwest to utilize natural gas commercially, John S. Ivy, vice president of the Union Producing company, Houston, said. The first use he said, probably was from the Corsicana pool about 1888 and which served the town of Corsicana.

Ivy said recent estimate of natural gas reserves had been placed at 62 trillion cubic feet which amount about 76 per cent was located in the southwestern states.

In the morning session, J. D. R. Eddy, state Bureau of Vocational Education, Austin, spoke on "progress in oil industry vocational training in Texas."

Secretary Ickes told his press conference today that something ought to be done about over production of oil.

Gas and oil stocks, he said, were getting too high for the best interests of the market, but that his department had no power to act. "Something ought to be done about these excessive supplies," he said, "but we are a little hesitant to offer our services again after past failures to get the companies to support oil conservation legislation."

"I have always contended," he added, "that we can preserve crude more effectively underground. Besides, it is safer and cheaper. The companies, themselves realize they could serve themselves best by not taking excessive supplies from the ground."

Tax Control Plan Principal Topic Of East Texas C. of C.

HUNTSVILLE, March 24.—(AP)—The tax control program of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce was the principal topic at the 12th annual birthday party of the commercial organization here today.

McDonald Menchum, Houston, chairman of the chamber's tax committee, was to explain this activity.

Mr. Ball, chairman of the entertainment committee, said plans were made for 350 guests at the luncheon preceding the business session. E. L. Smith, Mexia, and Hubert Harrison, Longview, president and vice president, respectively, were in charge.

The roster of speakers included also Paul T. Sanderson, Trinity; M. E. Dorsey, Grapeland; E. L. Jackson, Hillsboro; Gus Blankenship, Jacksonville, and Lamar Fleming, Jr., Houston.

Corsicana Boy Has Reported For Grid Practice at A. C. C.

ABILENE, March 24.—(AP)—James Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Nelson of Corsicana, a sophomore in Abilene Christian College and a veteran member of last fall's football team, reported for spring training at A. C. C. About 45 have reported and more expected to check out later.

Due to the return of 21 players from last fall's squad, the outlook, says Coach A. B. Morris, is the brightest for several years. Eleven of these lettermen are freshmen, six are sophomores and the remaining four are juniors.

The Abilene Christian College football team is a member of the Texas conference composed of nine Central Texas college teams. This afternoon, tonight a banquet and dance will be entertainment features, with Col. Ernest O. Thompson, Texas editor, commissioner member, as the speaker at the banquet.

El Paso, Sweetwater and Abilene delegates were making split-second bids for the next convention. Sessions will be concluded Friday.

Sick and Convalescent. Mrs. L. E. Brown who underwent an operation for appendicitis is recently at the P. and S. Hospital, was able to be taken home today.

C. G. Davidson was reported to be resting a little better Thursday at the P. and S. Hospital.

Beauty Diary

Of Edna Kent Forbes
BLACKHEADS.

If you still have those annoying black or whiteheads, try the simple method given in today's talk on how to clear them from your skin.

When there are blackheads, or whiteheads, there is some internal cause for the trouble. Poor elimination will usually be found to be the reason.

The sebaceous glands have been overworked to carry off the excess waste, too much for the normal processes of elimination. The glands in the skin become enlarged, sluggish, after a time, and therefore clogged. Soil seals the impact, and the blackhead is not cleared. It occurs just as blackheads do, but a thin outer covering of skin prevents soil from entering the impact. These are a bit harder to manage, because all the work must be done by stimulating the skin to normal activity, and when this is established again, nature clears up the trouble. The blackhead trouble may be approached from different angles. Internal regulation must be considered in either instance, but one may do considerable clearing by opening the pores, providing you close them at the end of the cleansing. Hot wet cloths laid over the places, kept renewed for about ten minutes, will do this for you, and much better than a full steaming of the entire complexion. A thin cream or oil rubbed gently into the section needed will dissolve some of the hardened mass. Remove this with tissue and give the skin a soap and hot water bath. This gets the last trace of the oil from the skin. Repeat the oil or cream rub and cover the skin again with the steaming cloth for a few minutes. Remove all, bathe, rinse with cool and finally douche the skin in extremely cold water, as this tones and closes the pores. Cleanse this way once a week until the skin is cleared.

Mrs. J.—With hand massage, motions are always from the finger tips down to the arms. Experts press the finger tips as if to taper them in shape, then work over each finger, massaging it, and moving it at the various joints, to make it flexible. Next, the palm and the back of the hand will be massaged, and the thumb pressed and rubbed against the skin in little circles. The hand then is moved on the wrist for those joints, and then the massaging extends up the arm.

Miss L. F.—A scalp specialist may do something for you, but you may also do pretty much the same thing if you massage your scalp every day and use a stimulating tonic on it. If you need a formula for such a tonic, I shall be glad to send one. In that case, forward a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the mailing. There is something now that is causing so many young persons to have grey hairs. General stimulation will help much, even though the entire tendency is not overcome. With some persons, there will be a number of these stray white hairs, then the whole matter rests at that, for years. These may even be dead hairs, and in that case they drop out. It is a deplorable state, and it is to be hoped that this odd tendency will disappear. If a woman is sufficiently youthful and is accumulating so much grey hair as to make her look older than she is, she should bleach her hair, and this is preferable to dyeing it.

Financial Aid

For Business Is

Roosevelt Plan

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—

Secretary Morgenthau announced today that President Roosevelt has asked a committee of high federal officials to prepare a program of financial aid to business.

The secretary of the committee is chairman of the committee, said the group would "go over various suggestions for loans to industry, including small business, and try to put something together that is constructive."

He added that he felt there was a real need for expanded financing, particularly of small business, but that the government could do nothing about it.

One of the first things that the committee will study, he said, is the ability of private institutions to furnish such financing.

With Morgenthau on the committee are James Roosevelt, son and secretary of the president; Congressman Joseph E. Jones of Ala., chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee; and Secretary of the Federal Reserve Board, and Chairman William O. Douglas,
chairman of the Securities Commission.

ers and TVA critics were opposing his procedure.

Democratic Leader Barkley declined the inquiry should be conducted jointly by the house and senate.

Senators King (D-Utah) and Bridges (R-NH), outspoken critics of the TVA, wanted to write into the resolution a long list of appetizing charges against TVA administration.

The senate audit committee approved the Norris resolution, which would provide $500,000 for expenses of the investigation committee. The resolution was introduced this afternoon was expected to precipitate a new round of debate over President Roosevelt's ouster of TVA Chairman A. E.
Morgan.

The subject was the subject of two resolutions drawn, but not yet introduced, by Bridges. One proposed that the senate censure the chief executive, and the other called for the removal of Directors
H. A. Morgan, chairman, and David E. Lilienthal.

Bridges said he was undecided
whether to put the resolutions before the senate, although yesterday he told the senate that Morgan's removal amounted to "confiscating an innocent man without a fair trial."

"To be fair," he said, "congress should proceed at once to remove the other directors or suspend them."

Federal Accounting

System Under Fire

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—

A stubbornly fought administration proposal for a new federal accounting system provided the final test of strength today in the senate's long battle over government reorganization.

The opposing factions agreed to vote today on killing a provision that would divide the comptroller general's duties between the budget director and a new auditor general.

Supporters of the present system, who termed the comptroller general a "watchdog" for congress, conceded they had little chance of victory.

WAY CLEARED FOR CONGRESS PROBE OF TENNESSEE VALLEY

PRESIDENT TO SEND LAW-MAKERS FULL REPORT ON OUSTER OF MORGAN

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, advising congress today that he had ousted Arthur E. Morgan from TVA, said it was "clearly the right" of the legislature to make "any fair inquiry" into TVA's administration of policies.

"But I cannot, in the while," he said, "abdicate my constitutional duty to take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

Mr. Roosevelt ordered Morgan's removal from the Tennessee Valley Authority chairmanship, yesterday, to become effective today. Simultaneously the President announced the elevation of Harcourt A. Morgan, now vice-chairman, to the chairmanship.

TVA made no recommendation for filling the vacancy on the board, but some informed persons believed he would nominate James L. Fly, TVA general counsel.

With his message, Mr. Roosevelt sent to the capitol a letter from Robert H. Jackson, the acting attorney general, upholding the President's right to remove TVA board members from office.

Charges were made by Jackson, outlining the case in a letter dated March 18, said charges of "dishonesty and want of integrity" had been made against Directors Harcourt A. Morgan and David E. Lilienthal by the chairman, who then openly defied the President's "constitutional authority" by refusing to answer "reasonable inquiries concerning the situation existing in this authority."

"I think I may state," Jackson said, "it is an unassailable proposition that if any of these charges is established, the power of removal ought to exist."

"Furthermore," the Tennessee Valley Authority being an executive agency, performing executive functions, and therefore in the executive branch of the government, the power of removal ought to be in the President.

Administration leaders agreed a legislative inquiry into the feud between Arthur Morgan and the other two TVA directors was inevitable.

Mr. Roosevelt, in reporting to congress on Morgan's removal, transmitted a voluminous transcript of three days of hearing on the TVA feud in the White House inner office.

Evidence brought out at those hearings before the President, Mr. Roosevelt asserted, showed that: (a) Arthur E. Morgan publicly made grave and libelous charges of dishonesty and want of integrity against his fellow directors, and when called upon to sustain them repeatedly refused to do so;

(b) On the face of the record charges of the other directors, that Arthur E. Morgan has obstructed the work of the Tennessee Valley Authority were substantiated by proof, were not refuted and therefore must be accepted as true;

(c) Arthur E. Morgan was contumacious in refusing to give the chief executive the facts, if any, upon which he based his charges of malfeasance against his fellow directors, and in refusing to respond to questions of the chief executive relating to charges of obstruction made against him by his fellow directors.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), floor leader Albert Barkley and Sen. Norris (Ind-Neb), "father of the TVA," engaged in a bitter exchange over the possible personnel of a joint investigating committee and the question of whether the president had the authority to discharge Morgan.

Barkley said there was "no question" about the desirability of a congressional investigation, but contended it should not be participated in "by anybody who has his mind made up."

"I don't agree with your philosophy," Bridges retorted.

"I am not quite so modest as the gentlemen," Bridges continued, referring to Barkley and Norris, both of whom have said they did not want to be members of an investigating committee. "I may say for myself that I would go into the hearings with an open mind. But I want to serve on the committee."

"No doubt the senator is perfectly unbiased," Norris cut in, sarcastically.

"I'm certainly as unbiased as the senator from Nebraska," shouted Bridges.

Where Difference Lies

"The difference is I don't want to be a judge in this case," Norris said.

When Bridges asked Barkley if he thought the president had authority to discharge Morgan, Barkley said he had a "curb-stone opinion" about the matter, but no opinion that could not be modified.

Barkley asked Bridges if he approved of Arthur Morgan's refusal to give facts to the president concerning charges against other directors.

"I do, because he agreed to give those facts to congressional investigators," Bridges said.

Norris, in an angry voice said that "it had not been for the objections of the senators from New Hampshire (Bridges) and Utah (King) the TVA investigation would probably be finished by this time."

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt cleared the way today for a congressional

McDONALD'S PHARMACIES

New Shallow Oil Production Area South Richland

Prospects of an unexpected shallow production area in southern Navarro county have been encountered recently by a syndicate of East Texans drilling a well just south of Richland.

The well is known as the Gibson et al No. 1 Dr. J. H. Edgar and is on the west side of Highway 14 about a mile and a half south of Richland. The well is being drilled by Guy Sifton of Corsicana.

The location is near the old Lenoir wildcat drilled several years ago and the operators were seeking a possible pay horizon around 1800 feet when the present sand was encountered around 362 feet.

The operators announced Tuesday they planned to offset the present location with a spudder and test the shallow sand, while continuing down to the 1800 foot mark with the original hole. They said estimates of the production ranged from five to thirty-five barrels per day of 26 gravity oil. The sand was not expected and they said it had been penetrated some 14 feet before production was discovered. The well is making a small amount of water along with the oil.

The operators said further development would depend upon a final test of both the shallow and lower horizons.

Investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority by congress, a full report on his ouster of Chairman Arthur E. Morgan.

Mr. Roosevelt drafted the message late yesterday afternoon, sending Morgan's removal on three counts and promoting Vice Chairman Harcourt A. Morgan to the chairmanship.

Some informed persons said the president might choose James L. Fly, 40-year-old TVA general counsel, to fill the vacancy on the three-man board.

Before leaving last night for Warm Springs, Ga., Mr. Roosevelt told reporters the message would set out his legal powers to oust the man whom he chose five years ago to head the giant new dam project.

Morgan and his friends have challenged that authority, contending the TVA act permits removal only by a congressional resolution. Tight former chairman, chopping trees at his home in Yellow Springs, Ohio, said on learning of the president's action: "Well, that's that!"

Senator Bridges (R-N. H.), a TVA critic, said he was informed Morgan would fight the removal order "to the last ditch." Some associates predicted he would ask a federal court to nullify it.

Administration leaders agreed a congressional inquiry of the feud between Arthur Morgan on the one hand and Directors Harcourt Morgan and David E. Lilienthal was inevitable. The President himself said yesterday he had no objections to an investigation.

However, brought varying congressional reaction, and fore-shadowed heated debate over TVA policies in both senate and house.

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb.), author of the TVA legislation, said the president could do "nothing else" but remove Morgan, who three times had refused to substantiate charges of dishonesty against his co-directors.

"That fellow caused all sorts of trouble," said Norris.

Senator Bridges, however, termed Mr. Roosevelt's proceeding that "of the typical dictator."

RIO GRANDE CITY, March 24.—(AP)—Six men charged by indictment with the slaying of three others March 6 are scheduled to go to trial here April 6.

The defendants, indicted yesterday, are Elias Solis, Martin Solis, Juan Solis, Amado Vera, Benigno Ramirez and Benito Saenz, all of La Grulla.

COMMITTEE RULES AGAINST CORSICANA ON SCHEDULE ISSUE

ORDERED TO MEET BRYAN ON SEPT. 23 OR FORFEIT; NO LOCAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The Corsicana High School Tigers were ordered to play the Bryan Broncos on September 23 at a special meeting of the District 11 committee at Waco Saturday, but no definite announcement was forthcoming from local high school officials Monday morning.

The district committee agreed that Sept. 23 was the "corresponding date" for the contest. Bryan had contended for this date while Coach John A. Pierce had held out for the next week. Cleburne and Hillsboro were not represented at the meeting, and neither Corsicana nor Bryan voted, while Waco, Temple and Waxahachie supported the Bryan petition.

According to the ruling refusal of Corsicana to meet Bryan on the set date would result in a forfeit for the Broncos.

Bryan had asked for a ruling on the issue in order to be able to complete their schedule, and it was indicated they would not fill out their state, leaving the Sept. 23 date for Corsicana if they desired to play. Bryan sought the earlier date in order to keep from playing all their conference games on successive Fridays.

Corsicana is slated to play Athens on the date agreed upon by the district committee, and the game will have to be shifted or cancelled if the ruling is accepted.

HEAVIEST RAINFALL IN COUNTY TUESDAY WAS IN CORSICANA

Good rains fell over a large portion of Navarro county Tuesday afternoon. The rainfall in Corsicana was .55 of an inch, which reports indicate was the heaviest in the county.

Kerens reported only a light shower as did the section around Cryer Creek. A strip through the center of the county from Richland to Rice received a heavy rain. Silver City and a portion of the western part of the county also reported a good rain.

In practically all sections the rain was heavy enough to furnish top soil moisture, needed to keep oats and corn growing, and put land in fine condition for further preparation.
